HINGES ON CONTRIBUTIONS

Pennsylvania Senator Alleged Three Men Sanctioned
Standard Oil Donation

WILKES BARRE, Pa., Aug. 21.—An attack on Senator Penrose was made by Colonel Roosevelt tonight after he had read the senator's statement in the senate today. The former president quoted from letters and telegrams which he sent to George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican national committee in 1904, to prove that no contributions had been accepted from the Standard Oil company.

"Mr. Penrose and his allies and the entire crowd of crooked politicians and crooked financiers who have attempted to make these attacks upon me," said Colonel Roosevelt, "have made them and are making them, not only knowing they are false, but because they are false, and because they know that the forces behind me, which I at this time represent, are the only forces which the crooked politicians and crooked financiers of the country have really to fear."

No Such Contribution Sanctioned.

In reference to the charge made by Senator Penrose, that a heavy campaign contribution had been received from Mr. Archibald, in behalf of the Standard Oil company, Colonel Roosevelt read from copies of letters which he had sent Mr. Cortelyou in the latter part of October, 1904, in which he said he had been informed that the "Standard Oil people" had contributed $100,000 to the campaign.

"I told Mr. Cortelyou that if it were true that such a contribution had been made, the money should be returned at once. He wrote that, 'in view of the open and pronounced opposition of the Standard Oil company to the establishment of a bureau of corporations, one of the most important accomplishments of my administration, I do not feel willing to accept his aid.' I request, therefore, that the contribution be returned without further delay."

If Received, Was Against Orders.

"Mr. Cortelyou informed me," said Mr. Roosevelt, "that no contributions had been received from the Standard Oil people, and that none would be received. If any contribution was received, it was against my explicit and reiterated directions, as set forth in these letters."

Colonel Roosevelt then quoted from an open letter, issued just prior to the 1904 election by Mr. Cortelyou, saying that every contribution was made without pledge or understanding re-

OTERO COUNTY STRONG FOR STEWART, HE SAYS

Brother Kansas Governor Declares
Progressive Republican Principles Heartily Indorsed

That Stewart and the Progressive Republican candidates will sweep Otero county, is the prediction of C. S. Stubbs, of Otero, brother of Governor Stubbs of Kansas, and who was in the city for a few hours yesterday.

"You hardly ever hear Park's name mentioned in Otero," was the way the Republican leader from Fowler put it. "Everyone is for Stewart and the Progressive Republican cause. If the rest of the state votes as Otero does, Stewart will have the biggest majority ever given any candidate in Colorado."

Mr. Stubbs is a strong Roosevelt man, and is doing all he can to advance the cause in his region.

Watch This Space Daily PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICAN BULLETIN

Last night the Progressive Republican candidates for county and district offices met, and an attendant at the meeting could not have mistaken the sentiment of the people, as these gentlemen brought it from the various precincts, or could the enthusiasm have been mistaken.

It will prove one of the greatest victories for the people in the history of the county.

In the state it is the same story. Stewart and his fighting lieutenants are meeting with ovations wherever they go.

REGISTER TODAY AND VOTE SO THAT YOU CAN SAY YOU PLAYED YOUR PART IN BRINGING THIS SPLENDID CONDITION ABOUT. GO TO THE COURT HOUSE AND REGISTER. DO NOT DELAY.

STEWART CHALLENGES OPPONENTS TO EXPLAIN

Progressive Republican Leader Defines His Position Clearly; Makes Big Hit

Special to The Gazette.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Aug. 21.—One of the largest campaign rallies held in this city in recent years took place tonight, when voters of every political faith took advantage of the appearance of Philip B. Stewart and others to hear the issues of the present campaign discussed.

The meeting was held in the Elks Opera house, F. J. Mund presiding. Mr. Stewart stated his platform on all mooted questions, and made a decided hit with his interested auditors by the cleverness and conciseness of his remarks. He challenged his opponents to come out and state their position.

In his characteristic manner of getting at things, he took up among other subjects, the workmen's compensation act, which is part of his platform.

"It is unfortunate," said Mr. Stewart, "that the losses due to industrial accidents now fall in the first instance on the injured employee, or in case of his death, on his widow and children. This burden should and ought to be shifted to the shoulders of the employer. Under our present laws, in order to procure his just due, the plaintiff must go into court and show that the injury for which he seeks redress was due to the negligence of his employer. By some technical construction of the courts the question of contributory negligence is then brought in, and the injured workman is compelled to drag his case for years through these courts, entailing an expense which in nearly every instance he cannot possibly meet."

Employer Also Unfortunate.

"Under our present system, the employer also is unfortunate. It is said that throughout the country during the last five years, employers of labor have paid to liability insurance companies not less than $50,000,000 for protection against liability. Of this sum the companies have kept approximately $35,000,000. You can readily understand that our present laws touching upon this question guarantee no justice either to the employer or the employee."

"It requires no argument to prove that there is a drain upon the industrial resources of the country which should be continued. Besides, it is fairly plain upon the laboring class in the first instance, instead of upon the industry, the risks and losses incident to the calling, the present system of litigation does not treat all workmen alike. It has been said that every personal injury case is a gamble. Five cases may result in no relief, while the plaintiff in the sixth case is often compensated far beyond a point of honest justice."

"In the operation of the railroads of this country four thousand lives are sacrificed every year, and from fifty to sixty thousand more are injured. In other words, on an average, a railroad employee is injured every 10 minutes, and on an average, one is killed every two hours. In coal mines 2,000 lives are annually sacrificed, and it is estimated that in all occupations in this country, not less than a half million working people are injured while at work every year."

POLICE ALLOWED MEN TO ESCAPE

This Is Belief of District Attorney in Case of Rosenthal Suspects

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Charging that "some members of the New York police department knowingly permitted the escape" of "Gyp the Blood" and "Latty Lattie," the missing gangsters indicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, District Attorney Whitman tonight offered a reward of $5,000 for the capture of the fugitives. The generosity of private citizens made it possible for the district attorney to offer the reward.

One of the district attorney's reasons for suspecting that the police have allowed the two to escape, was indicated tonight when it became known that Sam Schepps, in his testimony before the grand jury, said three detectives from New York police headquarters had recognized him while he was hiding in Fairbanks, N. Y., and had liberally allowed him to escape. These detectives had been sent to the region to find him.

Further details of Schepps' testimony involving Police Lieutenant Becker was learned today.

Becker, the witness testified, told him to tell Rose, then in hiding in Harry Pollock's house, not to give himself up. "I can control Waldo," Becker said, according to Schepps, "and no one need be afraid. Don't worry about the district attorney either. I can prevent him from doing anything. The district attorney cannot do anything without evidence and I'll see that the police hold out the evidence."

FRENCH TO ERECT A MONUMENT TO WRIGHT

LEMANS, France, Aug. 21.—The municipal council today decided to erect a monument to the late Wilbur Wright on the Plain of Auxvres, where Wright made his first flight in France.

DETECTIVE BURNS ILL; RUMORS OF POISON PLOT GIVEN LITTLE CREDENCE

DENVER, Aug. 21.—William J. Burns, the famous detective, is confined to his room in the Brown Palace hotel tonight, suffering, it was given out, from the effects of ptomaine poisoning. By his orders or those of his physician, newspaper men and other visitors are denied admittance to the apartments and no information will be given out by the nurse in charge of the detective.

A report gained currency here tonight that Burns had been the victim of a poison plot, but little credence is placed in the rumor.

Burns returned yesterday from Pueblo where he addressed the Colorado State Bankers association. When he retired last night it was stated by his friends, he appeared to be in the best of health. Shortly after reaching his rooms, however, a physician was summoned followed later by a nurse.

AMBASSADOR LEISHMAN'S DAUGHTER IS INJURED

MUNICH, Bavaria, Aug. 21.—Countess Louise de Gontaut-Biron, the eldest daughter of John G. A. Leishman, United States ambassador to Germany, is confined to the Regina Palast hotel with a slight brain concussion, several skin abrasions and an obstinate nausea as the result of an automobile accident this afternoon near Ingolstadt.

Miss Nancy Leishman, the youngest daughter of the ambassador, escaped with unimportant abrasions. Mrs. Leishman and her maid and the chauffeur of the machine were not injured. The chauffeur while trying to pass a vehicle was obliged to steer his machine out of the road in order to avoid a collision. The automobile struck a tree and all five occupants were thrown out.

"Antimachine Republicans Should Get Together"—William Allen White

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Aug. 21.—That the antimachine Republicans should get together this year and fight for Roosevelt and good state government, joining forces despite the present differences as to "the unessential matter of temporary procedure," is the opinion of William Allen White, the famous proprietor and editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, and one of the best-known writers and reform advocates in the country. Mr. White, who is visiting in Denver, decries the failure of Progressive Republicans to get together in politics when they have everything in common but the matter of procedure. This applies directly to the Progressive or third party in Colorado, and the Progressive Republicans who are warring on the machine leaders, but remain within the party.

Mr. White tonight gave out the following statement for publication:

"There is no reason on earth why men who have everything in common but the unessential matter of temporary procedure, should not be together in politics this year. Personally, speaking only for myself, I cannot see why the Taft fellows should not be licked as they deserve to be by the men who have made the progressive fight in the Republican party for years, and who now have the primary as a weapon for the first time to rebuke the machine."

"Of course, I believe in realignment of forces this year, but after cleaning up the Republican machine, it would seem to be a good plan to get together and make a fight for Roosevelt and a clean state government in the most sensible and expedient way."

Several newspapers suggest that the general's work entitled him to lie in Westminster or St. Paul's cathedral, but his wish was to be buried beside his wife, and it is doubtful if the church authorities will offer to place the body in the cathedral.

All the commissioners followed, speaking of their determination to support the new general as they had his father.

King George was one of the first to telegraph his condolence to the bereaved family.

Entered Ministry at Age of 23.

General William Booth, who developed the greatest organized movement since the beginning of Christianity for the saving of human souls, was the son of a Nottingham, England, carpenter. His chosen teaching for a profession and studied theology under a private tutor for the Methodist New Connection church. In 1852, when he was 23 years old he entered the ministry but was not formally ordained until six years later.

BRAMWELL BOOTH NEW COMMANDER

SUCCEEDS FATHER AS HEAD SALVATIONISTS

Late General Booth Made the Selection 22 Years Ago.
Funeral August 28

LONDON, Aug. 21.—In the presence of all the Salvation army commissioners and the principal officers in London, General Booth's testament, entrusted to the army's solicitor 22 years ago, appointing the late commander-in-chief's son, Bramwell Booth, to succeed him, was opened today and read.

Bramwell Booth, who has been chief-of-staff of the Salvation army since 1880, accepted the succession formally with much feeling.

General Booth's funeral will take place on the afternoon of August 28 at Abney park cemetery, in Stoke-Newington, where his wife is buried. Thousands are expected to participate in the funeral service by the army, which will be held on the preceding night at the great hall of Olympia.

Wished to Be Buried Beside Wife.

Several newspapers suggest that the general's work entitled him to lie in Westminster or St. Paul's cathedral, but his wish was to be buried beside his wife, and it is doubtful if the church authorities will offer to place the body in the cathedral.

In the meantime he was appointed to do circuit work but he had received a taste of evangelism and it appealed to him. To his imagination and ambitious mind the work of ministering week after week to the same congregation palled; he longed for fresh fields and a continued fight after human souls.

ANOTHER RICH STRIKE IN ISABELLA PROPERTY

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 21.—A strike even richer than that of Hill, Olsen and Braun has been made at the 900-foot level of the Lee shaft of the Isabella mine by E. J. Fackrell, lessee and former superintendent of the property. Experienced miners pronounce it one of the most wonderful strikes ever made in this district.

Fackrell has opened up at the junction of the Maloney and No. 4 Isabella veins an ore body six to eight feet wide, and so rich in sylvanite is the ore that the muck pile behind the machine tonight was likened to a pile of snow.

The sides of the drift literally glisten with sylvanite left standing. One round of machine holes has broken down about two carloads of ore, but no assays have been taken.

This strike, like that reported yesterday, is in virgin territory.

BALLOON PILOTS DUE TO ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Carnival Committees Working Out Final
Arrangements for Big Celebration

Chairman William S. Dunning of the balloon race committee has announced his "committee's sports," which is the committee which has final decision in appeals in all races run under the sanction of the Aero Club of America. It also has social duties, which include looking after the welfare of the visiting club men. Dunning's committee is as follows: Ashton, Potter, Spencer, Penrose, Henry Russell Wray, Dr. Gerald Webb, J. Peterson, Hawkins, James F. Burns, J. H. Watters, Clarence Carpenter, Chalmers, R. Schley, Chester Alan Arthur, Butler Williamson, Dr. D. J. Sully, D. D. Casement, R. H. Healey.

R. R. Taylor has consented to act as Dunning's assistant in handling the balloon race, taking charge of the tickets and the work of getting the grounds in shape. It is a big job, but he has had considerable experience in that sort of thing, having handled the grandstand for a good many years in the old flower show days.

A telegram from Paul McCullough, the St. Louis business man who will pilot one of the balloons in the great race, announced that he had reached Kansas City on route here, and is bringing the Goodyear Rubber company's balloon. This is one of the newest and handiest of the balloons that started at Kansas City last month. It has a yellow rubber bag that is something new in balloon manufacturing.

Pioneers Will Ride in Wagons.

Old-time folks in the Pikes Peak region, those who came in the States, and the followers of General Palmer, 11 years later, will ride in wagons in the parade this year, not in carriages or autos. They did not come to Colorado in any such highfalutin' things, and they don't intend to give any false impressions. Last year somebody arranged carriages for them, and they didn't feel comfortable, so this year it was wags. Mrs. Price, president of the Pioneer society, has arranged that each old-timer shall have a pennant from the society, and these will be distributed from the wagons.

Frank A. Perkins, manager of the parade, wants the pioneers to place the work around during the week, so that all will be notified, and later he will arrange a place where the wagons can be found Wednesday morning. He has named the following committee to assist and get ready for the parade: Irving Hawbert, E. W. Frost, J. H. Bingen, J. P. Humphrey, Anthony Scott, M. S. Beach, O. E. Hemenway, Ed Robinson, James Connelley, Hugh Connelley, S. M. Buzzard and M. A. Foster.

Cowboy Author to Head Parade.

Andy Adams, the well-known author of cowboy stories, and welcomed all over the short-grass ranges for 30 years, is to be the grand marshal of the pioneer and civic parade Wednesday morning. The parade is growing, and getting ready for the parade: Irving Hawbert, E. W. Frost, J. H. Bingen, J. P. Humphrey, Anthony Scott, M. S. Beach, O. E. Hemenway, Ed Robinson, James Connelley, Hugh Connelley, S. M. Buzzard and M. A. Foster.

Chairman Perkins announced the following as the officials of the civic parade:

Division No. 1—Including Indians and Pioneers.

Andy Adams, Marshal.
Aides: R. L. Holland, W. S. McReynolds, Tod Powell, A. W. Marksheffel.

Second Section, Division No. 1.

Tom Brigham, Marshal.
Aides: Stanley Burns, Art Robinson, Bill Herryman, Ira J. Kutch.

Division No. 2—Floats.

J. P. Lawton, Marshal.
Aides: P. M. Lennox, W. W. Ulick, Raynor Gardner, George Shields, Barton Hall.

Division No. 3—Decorated Automobiles.

George Thompson Falls 200 Feet and Is Crushed Beneath Aeroplane

LAMAR, Aug. 21.—Caught by a light breeze as it turned just above the grandstand crowded with intensely interested spectators, the aeroplane Matthewson Flyer, driven by George Thompson, turned turtle at the race track this afternoon and fell to the ground, fatally crushing Thompson beneath it.

The machine was about 200 feet in the air when the accident happened, and Thompson attempted to save himself by jumping. The heavy machine followed him to the ground, overtaking the man on the way down, and bore him to the earth. When picked up Thompson was still alive. He was hurried to the local hospital but died soon after admission.

Thompson had just begun a series of exhibition flights at the fair grounds. When the machine rose in the air Thompson seemed to have perfect control. He waved a farewell to the crowds and glided off over the fair grounds and traveled about a quarter of a mile away and then returned. When just above the grandstand he attempted to turn and descend when the spectators were horrified to see the great machine turn completely upside down.

Youngest Aviator in West.

DENVER, Aug. 21.—George Thompson, killed today at Lamar, when his aeroplane turned turtle, was 24 years old and perhaps the youngest aviator in the west. Despite his youth, Thompson had made more than 100 exhibition flights in this and adjoining states. He was secretary of the Mathewson Aeroplane company of Denver, which he organized, and built the machine in which he was killed. The body will be brought to Denver, which was "hired" for burial.

Beats already have been placed on sale at the Sun drug store on Pikes Peak avenue for the masquerade ball on the opening night of the carnival. However, it has been necessary to change the price of box seats. After taking the measurements, the carpenters found that they could not fit the boxes to hold eight chairs, so it now is necessary to make them seat only six. The charge for a box seating six will be $150. This of course includes admission to the dancing floor as well as to the dancing. The general admission to the dancing is 50 cents. George Bender has opened his headquarters for customers in the Burns theater building. The doors are open from 4 to 5 o'clock in the evening for the present. A handsome line of costumes is on display.

None but proper dances will be tolerated at the dance, according to the announcement made yesterday afternoon by the floor committee.

TOBACCO TRUST ACTIVITIES SCROED

Cigarette Leading to General
Use of Opium in U. S.
Professor Charges

DENVER, Aug. 21.—Opium, for centuries the curse of the Chinese empire, has given way before the insidious American cigarette while in America the cigarette is leading to a more general use of opium, according to statements today of Prof. Albert Schneider, who is in charge of the United States bureau of chemistry at San Francisco, before the American Pharmaceutical association, in annual convention here.

The activities of the "toxic trust," as Professor Schneider designated it, both in America and Europe, was declared to be the cause of the growth of the cigarette habit.

"No sooner had China ridden herself of the opium curse than the tobacco trust voted it with the cigarette habit, which has spread to the farthest boundaries of the empire and has fastened itself upon the Chinese to an alarming extent," said Professor Schneider, who asked the pharmaceutical association to take cognizance of his statements and bring the matter to the attention of the United States government.

Even Children Confirmed Smokers.

Professor Schneider declared that immediately following the campaign against the use of opium in China, the "toxic trust," through its American and European branches, sent an army of men into the empire and distributed free money, then $5,000,000 worth of cigarettes. The empire was divided into northern and southern districts, the European branch of the trust taking the southern district while the northern part was handled through the American branches.

As a result of the campaign waged by the tobacco trust, said Professor Schneider, boys and girls in China, many little more than able to walk without assistance, are confirmed cigarette "fiends." Professor Schneider declared he secured his information through N. G. Dong Chiew, editor of a Chinese newspaper in San Francisco, who recently returned from a tour of the empire. Professor Schneider declared that Dong Chiew told him that opium was put into the cigarettes now being sold in China.

Attacks Surveyor of Ports Report.

The association bitterly attacked the report of Surveyor of Ports McKinley of San Francisco, who had advocated a prohibitive tax on opium to prevent the spread of the opium habit and the sale of the narcotic in the United States. The association went on record as favoring stricter legislation rather than a prohibitive tax.

The association will not support the Richardson amendment to the pure food law.

SPRINGFIELD, Va., Aug. 21.—The armored cruiser Maryland arrived from the Pacific Sound navy yard late today, and anchored in the harbor to await the arrival of Secretary of State Knox, who will go on the cruiser to Japan as the special representative of the United States to attend the funeral of the late emperor.

Rear Admiral Alfred Reynolds, who will represent the navy at the funeral, transferred his flag from the Pennsylvania, flagship of the Pacific reserve fleet, to the Maryland. Officers of the Maryland expect Secretary Knox to arrive late tomorrow and plan to leave for the Orient at midnight.

garding the policy of the administration.

Make Charge Before Senate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—In a carefully deliberated speech in the senate today, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania replied to the charges made regarding a certificate of deposit for $25,000 sent to him by John D. Archibald of the Standard Oil company in 1904.

Senator Penrose admitted receiving that sum from Mr. Archibald, but said it was part of a contribution of $125,000 made by Archibald to the Republican national campaign fund, $100,000 of which amount, he said, went to the Republican national committee and $25,000 to himself for use in Pennsylvania.

"President Roosevelt had been advised of the contribution," Senator Penrose declared. "He said that later Cornelius N. Bliss, then treasurer of the national committee, asked for another contribution of $100,000 from Archibald and his associates. Interested in the Standard Oil company."

"The demand was urgent, insistent—I may say imperative, and it was represented it came direct from President Roosevelt," declared Senator Penrose.

Senator Penrose charged that E. A. Van Valkenburg assisted Flinn in an effort to break him (Senator Penrose) and deceive the people.

At the conclusion of his speech the senator promised further disclosure.

Penrose had said that the clerk, a newspaper interview with Colonel Roosevelt in which the latter was quoted as saying that Penrose had nothing to do with the presidential campaign of 1904. The senator said he was a member of the national committee, chairman of Pennsylvania state committee and conducted the campaign in Pennsylvania.

Culberson Calls Up His Bill.

Mr. President, is this incriminating, mandating or political aphasia?" he demanded.

A ripple of laughter greeted this question, and Penrose settled into his seat.

Senator Bacon asked to whom the $25,000 was to be paid by the citizen who wanted to be elected to the senate.

"I suppose either to Mr. Durham or myself," responded Mr. Penrose. "We did not get that far in the consideration of the business."

Senator Culberson of Texas, seeing a psychological opportunity, called up his bill forbidding campaign contributions by corporations and limiting the amount to be contributed by individuals to $5,000.

A filibuster developed against the measure and after 38 senators had forced a half dozen roll calls, the senate was forced to adjourn.

Formal Statement From Flinn.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—Former State Senator William Flinn, the recognized leader of the Roosevelt forces in this state, tonight refused to discuss the charges made in the senate today by Senator Penrose except in a formal statement which he gave out through the North American. His statement in part follows:

"When the senatorial vacancy occurred, in 1904, a practically solid Republican delegation in the assembly from Allegheny county, and a large majority from western Pennsylvania, favored my selection to succeed Quay. Penrose was in favor of Oliver. He was not allowed to name his man for the appointment of Knox was decided upon at a conference held in the offices of the Pennsylvania railroad, in Philadelphia, by President A. J. Cassatt, Henry Clay Frick and ex-Senator D. B. Cameron. The latter two representing the corporations in this state and the big interests in New York.

"Under the old system in Pennsylvania, no senator has been chosen from his state without the O. K. of the Standard Oil and the Pennsylvania railroad. If the telegrams which Penrose read in the senate are genuine, they show that I made a pretty good guess as to who would dictate the appointment to succeed Quay, and also that Archibald and his associates were opposed to me. The fact that a selection was made and forced on Penrose demonstrates that he was then, as now, under the domination of Archibald and the interests which turned down my appointment.

Scathing Arraignment of Penrose.

Penrose alleged that I offered $100,000 or $200,000 to him and to Israel W. Durham to favor my appointment to the senate. Penrose's allegation disproves itself from several angles.

"First—If Penrose could have sold the senatorship for such a sum, his record as a corruptionist is sufficient evidence that he would have taken the money and delivered the goods. Second—The appointment of Knox, at the dictation of Archibald, Frick, Cameron and Cassatt, proves that Penrose did not have the senatorship in his hands to dispose of. Third—The very allegation that I solicited Archibald's support, and requested the Standard Oil chief to give orders to his man Penrose in my behalf, indicates that I was wise enough to know how Penrose could be controlled without the necessity of buying him.

"As a matter of fact, I never asked either Penrose or Durham to support me for senator, and never discussed the matter with them. These men were my personal and political enemies, with whom I have had no connection or relations since 1895."

A "Corruptionist," Says Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 21.—E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the Philadelphia North American, who is with Colonel Roosevelt in Wilkes Barre, Pa., tonight, dictated over the telephone the following statement:

"Senator Penrose's reference to me concerning one of 30 or 35 suits which he and his associates made in Pennsylvania have brought against me during the last 15 years, not one of which has been brought to trial.

"I tried unsuccessfully to force the Schuylkill county case to an early trial. Before the politicians saw fit to give me a trial their tool who swore out the warrants against me was sent to Sing Sing for five years for perjury. He was a detective by the name of Gibson. He was a vital witness in the Schuylkill county proceeding against me. The loss of their chief witness left the politicians no alternative than to nolle pross the case, which they did.

"Senator Penrose's evident purpose in bringing my name into his statement before the senate is to forestall the presentation of evidence in the possession of the North American, that he is a holder and corruptionist such as has not been exposed in public life in this country in recent years."

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican national committee in 1904, said tonight, in regard to Senator Penrose's statements in regard to alleged Standard Oil contributions to the Republican campaign fund in that year:

"I have no comment to make, other than to refer you to my testimony on July 11, before the senate subcommittee on privileges and elections."

In his testimony Mr. Cortelyou said he had never heard of Mr. Archibald or any one in his behalf, making a contribution.

WORKING FOR AN EARLY ADJOURNMENT CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Congress is trying to speed up with a view to adjournment next Saturday night. Majority Leader Underwood of the house arranged today for sessions to begin at 11 o'clock in the morning. The senate will meet at 10 o'clock.

It is probable President Taft will sign the Panama canal bill tomorrow. It is understood an agreement had been made effecting the eligibility of officers to the position of chief-of-staff which members of the senate later objected to. A final agreement on the army bill probably will be reached early tomorrow. The sundry civil appropriation bill, which also is in conference, is practically completed.

Should congress and the president agree to retain the commerce court until March 4, the conference on the sundry civil bill probably will adopt a similar provision for the tariff board.

The conference committee on the postoffice appropriation bill had not reached an agreement tonight on all points of difference but it is believed this measure and the Indian appropriation bill will be ready for final action Thursday or Friday.

WILSON REVIEWS BABIES

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 21.—Six hundred babies in go-carts, doll coaches, miniature wagons and floats, decorated to catch the eye of on-lookers, judged, passed in review today before Gov. Woodrow Wilson, in the annual baby parade at Asbury Park.

The governor was enthusiastically applauded as he entered the enclosure where the show was held.

As the babies passed single file before the governor, his attention was attracted by a little fellow who was perched on the protruding horns of a bull moose. Charles Joseph Hoffman, of Asbury Park, 1 year old, rode the animal, and wore a rough rider costume. The mother, who wheeled the float, stopped in front of the governor. He leaned forward and shook hands, while the crowd cheered.

SENATOR WILLIAMS ATTACKS ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Colonel Roosevelt was attacked for his published criticisms of Thomas Jefferson and other historical figures in the senate today by Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi. Senator Williams declared the former president had criticized a long line of predecessors, the faces of whose shoes, his late excellency, Theodore Roosevelt, is unworthy to imitate.

"Mr. Roosevelt could not write a book at all without paying his slanderous respects to Thomas Jefferson," said Mr. Williams. Senator Williams declared that Colonel Roosevelt had charged, "that Jefferson was 'vacillating, timid and the most incapable executive that ever sat in the presidential chair.'"

"In one place," said Senator Williams, "this late excellency—and he probably took his own right hand with his left when he formed the phrase—inform us that 'Jefferson was constitutionally incapable of placing the proper value on truth.'"

Senator Williams declared that despite comments by Colonel Roosevelt the picture of Jefferson had adorned the hall of the "Bull Moose" convention. He asserted that Colonel Roosevelt charged President Madison with "imbecile incapacity," and called him a "disgrace to America." Monroe and Madison, he said, Roosevelt had called "flourbeheads."

RUSHING HELP TO MEN IN NICARAGUA

War Department Fears Marines There Are in Danger of Annihilation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Undeterred by talk in the senate of projected resolutions regarding the constitutionality of the landing of American sailors and marines in Nicaragua, the navy department today, at the request of the state department, dispatched peremptory orders to the navy yards on two sides of the continent to rush reinforcements to the number of 2,000 men to the naval forces now located far in the interior of the insurrection-torn country.

Fear that the forces there are in danger of annihilation at the hands of the insurgents prompted the order. Government officials are satisfied they are within their rights in landing the sailors and marines, and that this does not constitute an act of war such as can only be authorized by congress.

The chief reason for the order is that at Managua are several hundred American bluejackets, who are trying to prevent the commission of an act of savagery and barbarism in violation of all the rules of civilized warfare in the capture and sacking of a city filled with noncombatants.

War Vessels Ordered to Clear.

Secretary Meyer issued rush orders for the big armored cruiser California at San Diego, Cal., to proceed to Panama. Meanwhile the transport Prairie has been ordered from the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard to Philadelphia to take aboard 750 marines and sail on to Colon. This force will be sent over the Panama railroad to Panama and be taken on board the cruiser California and be rushed northward to San Juan Del Sur and Corinto.

Officials believe 2,000 will be a sufficient number to protect Americans and their property and keep the railroad open. The line, which is American-owned, runs from Managua to Corinto. If the rebels took possession of the road all Americans would be cut off from the principal seaport on the Pacific.

Senator Bacon, in asking a senatorial investigation of the landing of marines and bluejackets in Nicaragua, scored the state department today for its attitude toward Nicaragua during the present revolution, declaring that "the executive departments of this government are now, in my judgment, violating the law by using the army and navy of the United States in Nicaragua."

The senator read newspaper dispatches referring to an American collector of customs in Nicaragua. "When this matter is sifted to the bottom," he said, "we will find that this is the real reason for American interference there."

"Some time ago, a treaty was negotiated by means of which the United States government was to furnish agents with authority to collect the customs of Nicaragua and to use the proceeds to pay certain loans to be made by American capitalists. The senate thus far has refused to ratify that treaty."

"I have not the slightest doubt in the world that, with whose authority I don't know, but with some authority, there has been an effort to accomplish without law that which they failed to secure with law."

Cruiser California on Way.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 21.—The armored cruiser California, which received orders at 3 o'clock this afternoon to proceed to Panama, there to embark marines to be taken to Corinto, weighed anchor at 6:00 and steamed out of the bay.

When the order came today Admiral Southerland, who was dining at a local club, hurried on board, and the men ashore were notified by signal guns to return to the ship.

Before the California left, Rear Admiral Southerland gave orders that any officers left behind should report on board the supply ship Glacier for transportation to the California. This is taken to mean that the Glacier will follow the California, probably tomorrow morning. The collier Prometheus is also expected to go south, and it is expected that the Vicksburg will also leave for Corinto tomorrow.

News of Slaughter Confirmed.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Monday, Aug. 21.—News of the government's defeat at Leon, 50 miles northwest of Managua, on August 17, when the insurgents slaughtered almost the entire garrison of the city, was confirmed today.

At 3 o'clock on Saturday morning while the troops were camped on the Plaza in the center of Leon, the Liberals heavily armed bullets occupied the surrounding buildings. As the troops were sleeping, the terrific fire of the sleeping garrison and of the 500 soldiers who were caught in the trap all were killed except 70.

The insurgents captured the fortress of Leon and now are in control of the city.

Owing to General Menzies' condition, command of the insurgents has fallen into the hands of the Liberals, whose chief is General Zeledon. The Liberals and Menzies have nothing in common except that they both are opposed to the government.

UNABLE TO FIND RELATIVES OF SLAIN DENVER RECLUSE

BRIGHTON, Aug. 21.—John Zabrasky, the alleged "fence" and reclusive jeweler who was murdered here Saturday night, was buried today.

All efforts to locate relatives of the dead man have been unavailing although it is believed a daughter lives in the state. The personal property of the man probably will be sold by the sheriff. Two Denver detectives have been engaged on the case. The authorities are working on the theory that Zabrasky was killed in an altercation with a crook over the payment for stolen goods.

IRRIGATION PROJECT TO BE STARTED AT ONCE

DENVER, Aug. 21.—Dr. B. L. Jefferson and Blair Burwell of the state land board, returned today from an investigation of the irrigation project of the Great Northern Irrigation and Power company, in Routt county.

Dr. Jefferson said tonight that the project would be started immediately. It involves the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000, and when completed will furnish water to 100,000 acres of land. Two reservoirs, with a capacity of 120,000 acre feet, will be constructed.

Sam Schepps, well known in New York gambling and gangster circles, who is being sought by the police, it is said, on the suspicion that he was the one who actually paid the money over to the gunmen who shot to death Herman Rosenthal, the gambler-informer. One theory on which the district attorney is believed to be working is that "Bridgely" Webber, the gambling house proprietor, who is now in custody in connection with the murder, furnished Schepps with the money at the instigation of Police Lieutenant Charles A. Becker, who is held in the Tombs prison on the charge of having planned and ordered the murder, and whom Rosenthal accused of having been his partner in the ownership of a gaming house.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood, which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it impurities and infectious matter. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation, and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid and assists nature in overcoming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alternative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. HESSELBERGER, of Lincoln, Neb., 530 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured. I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

It is understood that Speaker Clark will go to Maine before the gubernatorial election on September 9. Though Governor Wilson himself will not go into Maine until after the state election, indications are that the national campaign committee is directing its efforts to make a strong early campaign in that state.

Governor Marshall, the vice presidential nominee, and Representative Henry of Texas, will stump in Maine before the September balloting.

Governor Wilson was told tonight at Seattle that Governor Harrison of Ohio would make several addresses in the middle west for the Democratic national ticket.

DENVER, Aug. 21.—A. C. Trumbo of Muskogee, Okla., presiding in the Transmississippi congress which meets in Salt Lake City next week, declared today while in Denver that the producers of agricultural products in America lose annually $250,000,000 under their European neighbors through cost of transportation.

Mr. Trumbo supplemented this statement by saying that it costs 25 cents per mile per ton to transport farm products in America, while in Europe the cost for the same carriage is less than 10 cents.

The solution of the problem, said Mr. Trumbo, is in speed and economy. He said the congress is going to make a recommendation for an antitrust law in every state of the Union will also be made by the congress.

Mr. Trumbo is en route to Salt Lake City for the opening of the congress.

BRAMWELL BOOTH

particularly in London, General Booth was struck by the poverty of the people in the slums. From observation he concluded that poverty and sin were to a certain extent allied and that in order to do the most effective work and to get the best results he should transfer his efforts to the poverty-stricken denizens of the slums.

July 8, 1885, is a memorable day because on that day General Booth took the first step which led afterwards to the founding of the Salvation Army. This effort was first styled the Christian mission but it laid the seeds for the great international army of faith which was to follow.

Has Had Marvelous Growth.

The name of the organization was changed to the Salvation army and General Booth commenced the gigantic task of establishing a regular army to fight sin and poverty. From a humble beginning in London this great organization has grown until it has 8,912 corps, circles and societies established in 66 countries and colonies with about 21,203 officers and employees. In almost every city of consequence there is a branch with barracks where beds are maintained and food is dispensed at a very cheap rate.

The Salvation army soon found that its ramifications were so great and so widespread that the interest in its work that it needed an official organ, so the newspaper, "War Cry," was started and is in a flourishing condition.

As a concrete example of the material benefits of the army, 6,327,245 persons are supplied with beds in a single year while in the same length of time nearly 12,000,000 are fed.

General Booth has made a number of trips to the United States and has sent a number of "messengers" to the American people upon various occasions. While in New York in 1907 he gave out a remarkable interview in which he said: "My wife has preached and all my children have preached; now the third generation are beginning to preach. I pray to God there may never be a break in the line."

Discouraged at Times.

While General Booth was optimistic by nature, at times he became discouraged by his daily contact with the slums of the world. Two years ago during an address he predicted the imminent dissolution of the world by fire because of the great wickedness of the human race.

General Booth was a great believer in the inherent goodness of women and often expressed the belief that every time a woman sinned she was led to it by a man. He pondered for three years whether or not he should marry the girl of his choice because he was not sure he could make her as happy as he wished.

During the last few years of his life General Booth had been troubled with catarrhs upon his eyes and recently suffered virtual blindness. Several operations were performed from time to time but they only postponed total inevitable darkness.

On his eightieth birthday, while the light of human vision was swiftly fading, the aged humanitarian donated $5,000,000 for the founding of a University of Humanity to teach those doing social reform work. It will be erected in London.

General Booth was a tall, commanding figure with a piercing eye. His superb carriage and his long flowing beard and snow white hair gave him a physical appearance in keeping with his life and his noble deeds.

THE FUNDAMENTAL ISSUE IN THE STATE

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS are making a fight to eliminate corporation influence from the councils of the Republican party. If their fight is successful the bi-partisan machine of Colorado will be destroyed.

That the corporations of this state have controlled the politics of both parties for their own benefit should need no demonstration. It should be evident to any one who is at all familiar with politics or legislation in Colorado.

But those people who desire a detailed demonstration of the proposition that the public service corporations of Colorado have controlled government, city and state, for their own benefit, can find it. Such a demonstration is given by Dr. Clyde L. King in his "History of the Government of Denver," published in 1911.

Discussing the period 1877 to 1902, Professor King concludes: "The latter years of the period portended a kind of government that was not provided for in the city's organic law, a government by and for public utilities."

During the ten years that have elapsed since 1902, "the city's industrial corporations had come to act as a unit in state politics, the city's public utilities in city politics." The corporations of state and city now naturally tended to unite their political activities in order to secure the minimum service and protection from both city and state governments. Thus both parties became subservient to the same corporate control.

The domination of both political parties in Colorado by a few individuals, the underground control of government officials, city and state, the passage of legislation for the interests of public service corporations and the suppression of legislation that the voters have strongly desired is all to be traced to the activity of big business in politics.

THE ARGUMENT FOR REGULATION OF PUBLIC UTILITIES.

The most persistent and arrogant of offenders have been, and are, the public utility corporations of the state. Therefore, the first step in eliminating the political influence of such corporations is the passage of a law that will remove their incentive to enter politics. Other states have discovered a method of removing public service corporations from politics. The method is: the establishment of a public utility commission with power to regulate rates, to require adequate service, to control security issues, and to prevent discrimination and rebates of whatever character.

Relying upon the experience of such states as New York, Wisconsin and California, Progressive Republicans advocate as the central and most important plank of their platform the passage of a strong public utility law.

The term "public utility" is a general term which includes common carriers, such as steam railroads, street railways and express companies, pipe lines, gas, electrical, telephone, telegraph and water corporations. Such corporations have several marks which distinguish them from corporations doing an ordinary competitive business. In the first place, all of them operate under franchises giving them special rights. In the second place, all of them are monopolistic in their tendency. It is uneconomical and inexpedient to foster competition among public utilities; it is undesirable to have two gas, electric or water companies, or to have two railway companies where one can do the business. In the third place, all of these corporations provide services or products which are of general use. The name "public service corporations" describes their relation to the public. Finally, as each public utility corporation derives its rights from the public through its government and gets its profit from the public as individuals, such public utilities are eminently a subject for regulation.

Frederick C. Howe has recently written a book entitled, "Wisconsin's LESSON OF WISCONSIN'S EXPERIENCE. Experiment in Democracy." In a summary of this book, given in Hearst's Magazine for August, Mr. Howe says:

"Wherever you go in the West you will find the Wisconsin Public Utility Commission law either copied or a subject of debate at each session of the legislature. It is recognized as a model, just as is the Wisconsin Primary law. It was adopted in 1904, following the taxation of the railroads on the same basis as other property. It came about in this way: the railroad lobby protested to the legislature against increased taxation; but finally, when defeated, it said: 'Oh, well, it makes little difference to us, for if you increase our taxes we will merely increase rates and charges, and shift the taxes which you compel us to pay on to the manufacturers and consumers in the state.'"

"That was an unfortunate threat. It led to the creation of a commission to regulate railway rates and charges and finally to regulate the street railways, gas, electric light and all other public service corporations of the state. There is nothing novel about this; but there is very great novelty in the way it has been done and the effect upon the state. In the first place, business has increased more rapidly in Wisconsin than in the country at large. This is due to the fact that business men are sure of a square deal. There are no rebates or discriminations. There is no prolonged delay in securing relief. The railway commission, the shipper, and the railroad, gathered around the board in the commission's office and adjust their complaints in a very short time and frequently without any record. Freight rates have been reduced by more than $1,300,000 a year, and passenger rates by nearly $300,000 a year. Free passes have been abolished. The commission went after discriminations of all kinds. It found that the electric light, telephone, water and gas companies were discriminating among their consumers; so the commission put an end to all discriminating rates to consumers. It is estimated that these discriminations amounted to $2,000,000 a year.

"Then the commission undertook an efficiency survey. It sent inspectors and students from the University all over the state. When they called upon a public utility manager he could not tell whether they represented the tax commission or the public utility commission; he did not know whether he was going to be taxed on his return, or have his rates and charges fixed. He was between the devil and the deep sea; for the rates and charges are fixed on the same valuation that taxes are assessed. These experts from the University checked up the meters, the voltage, the quality of water, and the service rendered. They reported what they found to the commission. Then the commission established high standards of service and ordered the corporations to spend large sums of money out of earnings to improve their plants. They said that a public service corporation was a public agent that had agreed to perform a certain service at a reasonable price and that they were morally and legally obligated to give the best service possible. In view of the fact that they had a monopoly. Then they compelled them to keep their books according to a uniform system and forbade the issuance of any stock or bonds except for genuine new construction work.

"The result of this supervision is that the public service corporations and the railroads are out of politics. They have nothing to gain from the legislature or the city councils. Their lobbyists appear before the commission with their briefs. There has been great saving to the consumers and universal improvement in service. More than this, the man who buys stocks or bonds of a Wisconsin corporation gets value received. He knows the money will be used in the plant and not pocketed by a promoter or stock-jobbing gambler."

On May 10, Philip B. Stewart pledged himself to support a law providing for the establishment of a strong public utilities commission in Colorado. Progressive Republicans in general are pledged to support such a law. The passage of such a measure is the first step toward eliminating corporation influence over politics and the state government. It is the central plank of the Progressive Republican platform. This is one of the reasons why The Gazette is supporting Stewart and the Progressive Republican ticket.

THE TOLL OF LIFE IN THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

From the New York American.
With business conditions fairly favorable, with no very great disaster or serious political catastrophe recorded, a wave of self-murder swept over the land during 1911 that is puzzling the statisticians of life insurance companies.

Figures drawn from various sources show that while there was a marked decrease in the toll of suicides in cities of 250,000 and more, the increase in suicides in cities of less than 250,000 far outstripped the decrease and has given this country a slightly increased average of suicides.

What is the reason for this? Why should the smaller cities feel the pressing life more than the greater towns?

Actual physical causes, such as bodily disease, insanity, alcoholism, etc., can be dismissed at once, for these are fairly constant factors. One theory is to be found in the slightly obscure phrasing of a report submitted by Frederick L. Hoffman, statistician of a leading insurance company.

He says: "This voluntary tribute of human life to early death is equivalent to a contempt for a tolerable existence without a parallel in history." In other words, he says Americans are so well off that it is amazing they should kill themselves.

Another view is that the prosperity is specious and that the increased pressure on the individual through the increasing cost of providing for the family is growing so heavy that men and women of tense balance are unwilling to see themselves thrust backward from the advanced position their struggle has won for them.

And this is probably the real explanation of the increase of suicide. It is not that we are too prosperous. It is because the prosperity is taking too heavy a toll on those who seek a livelihood.

ANTIPLAGUE MEASURES.

From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.
The presence of bubonic plague in Cuba and Porto Rico and the memory that lax enforcement of preventive measures in San Francisco a few years ago necessitated years of work to stamp it out, should inspire the most rigorous measures of suppression and prevention now. These should be provided both at the points at which the plague has appeared and at all the ports by which the infection can enter this country.

The vehicle by which this disease is spread is the rat and flea infestation, the rats, which carry these dispersed, carries the infection to human beings.

ings. Obviously if the present population of rats were exterminated, and a quarantine established by which no new rats can get into the country, the United States would be plagueproof. The rats are universally execrated as an unqualified nuisance at the best. But as what is everybody's business is nobody's business, they have been permitted to multiply. It would be a fortunate chance if this impending danger should stimulate systematic and simultaneous work to exterminate the rat population.

It is a favorable augury that Surgeon General Blunt, whose work along that line conquered the plague in San Francisco, is now in charge of the work of preventing its entry into the Atlantic side of the country. He should be vigorously supported and given unstinted means to insure success in his work.

CUTTING OUT ORCHESTRAS.

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The high cost of giving plays is to be reduced in New York this coming season. The 10 leading theaters of that city, it is announced, will do without orchestras, and many of the leading road companies will also dispense with their musicians.

This is not because of a desire of the theatrical managers to return to the simple customs of the days when the morality play was the latest thing in vaudeville. Nor is it, so far as appears, because the music for musicians have dispensed has been lacking in musical quality.

The trouble is, it seems, that the musicians want to go in for more money. Taking note of the fact that the cost of living is high, they have gone on strike and demanded that their pay and the numbers employed be increased to an extent that it would mean from twice to five times the amount hitherto involved.

And the theater managers have responded by cutting out the orchestras altogether. Which, plucking a phrase from a work that both managers and musicians know about, would indicate that the latter had been guilty of something like "vaunting ambition, which oversteps itself and falls on either side."

Of course, New York is a big city, and the really good theatrical musicians ought to get jobs of some sort at the hotels and cafes and other places where music is in demand. Whether they will be able to command as good salaries as the theaters paid them remains to be determined.

The interesting point, however, is that even in this age of luxury luxuries can be dispensed with if they come too high. And orchestras, like many other very desirable institutions, are merely luxuries. The play's the thing and the music in front of the footlights merely serves to while the time.

Even valets, too, can be got along without, as was also shown in New York recently, when several hundred of them went on strike and guests and others took their place. Altogether it would seem that the only persons who are really indispensable are those referred to by the poet when he said: "We can do without you; we can do without books. But civilized man cannot do without cooks."

But then anybody can be his own cook on a pinch, and generally there is mother or sister or somebody else at home to cook for us and not strike.

A Suggestion Or Two

By RUTH CAMERON.

"To take all my work that I possibly can outdoors, and to bring outdoors in to me as much as possible is the spring and summer motto of the lady who always knows somehow."

Every pleasant morning and pleasant means every morning when it is not actually raining. I sit on the porch, I sew, I knit, I read, I sew, I prepare vegetables, I beat a cake, or doing any other task which can be by any possibility be attended to there.

In the spring and summer she does all her ironing out of doors, and when she has much stitching to do she has her sewing machine brought out on the porch.

Bringing outdoors indoors means of course having all the windows open as much as possible.

The lady who always knows somehow is very well and strong. She gives much of the credit to the plentiful supply of fresh air with which she entwines her household duties.

It seems to me that a great many housewives might with advantage follow her lead in this.

"It has been a habit of mine since leaving school and even before that," writes one of my readers, "when I came across a quotation or a thought beautifully expressed that I felt would help me to write it down and put it where I could see it very often, for instance on my dresser, until I had memorized it. This has been such a wonderful help to me that I wanted you to suggest it to your readers. Now I am a 'business woman' and I find it even more useful. Sometimes that one verse or thought will occur to me again and again during the day, and of course it cannot help but benefit me. Very often it is a real inspiration when I become discouraged."

"Then, too, I believe in passing these thoughts on. I often copy one off and send it to some girl I know would enjoy it."

I am very glad indeed to pass along this suggestion, for I do not believe there is one of us who has not been helped at least once, most of us many times, by remembering some inspiring sentiment in a moment of storm and stress, or a time of difficult decision.

We all approve of laying by material wealth for a rainy day. Surely it is also well to lay by mental and spiritual wealth for the stormy day of depression or sorrow or temptation.

I thoroughly recommend my letter-friend's idea. Don't just read and admire the helpful bit of poetry or striking sentiment. Perhaps you think you will remember it from one reading, and maybe you will, but the day after tomorrow it will probably be gone. Put it out or copy it and put it on your desk or your dresser or over your sink, any place where you will half unconsciously read it a dozen times a day. Keep it there until it becomes an integral part of your very matter, almost as unforgettable as your name.

In this way, and in this way only, can you make a really wise plan and be sure of its help when you most need it.

NO. 5 GUNPOWDER

The knowledge of gunpowder, or of some substance of equivalent effect, is undoubtedly of very remote antiquity. In a preface to the code of Gentoo laws, published in 1776, it is asserted, on good grounds, to have been known, time out of memory, to the inhabitants of Hindoostan. Marcus Graecus, who is supposed to have lived about the beginning of the fifth century, mentions specifically two kinds of fireworks, the composition of which he prescribes for both of which is two pounds of charcoal, one pound of sulphur and six pounds of saltpetre well powdered and mixed together in a stone mortar. The reader need not be told that this was, in other words, nothing else than gunpowder.

Firar Bacon, who flourished about three centuries afterwards, was also in possession of the prescription; but more governed than Graecus by the policy which prevailed so much of old, of concealing from the people at large truths of which it was supposed would make no good use, he thought proper to put the ingredients under an anagram. In his treatise, "De Secretis Operibus Artis et Naturae," etc., the secret of the composition is given. Bacon supposes that it was by the use of something like gunpowder, that Gideon defeated the Midianites with only 300 men. The first time when it is mentioned to have been used in Europe, was in a sea combat between the king of Tunis and the Moorish king of Seville, in the ninth century, when the vessels of the former are said to have had "certain tubes or barrels, whereby they threw thunderbolts of fire." The Venetians made use of it in the year 1380, during a war with the Genoese, and it is recorded that all Italy made complaints of it, as a manifest contravention of fair warfare.

Cervantes, who puts much excellent morality and philosophy into the mouth of "Don Quixote," makes him say that he "believe the inventor of artillery is a man of the best of the world." "Paradise Lost," ascribes the invention of cannon to the leaders in the infernal regions; and Dean Swift, in his "Travels of Gulliver," reproaches with his usual severity our perversion of geometry, mechanics and chemistry to the discovery of the means of mutual destruction. Napier, of Merchiston, and Sir Isaac Newton have also left strong testimonials of the abhorrence in which they hold such destructive contrivances.

But notwithstanding the opinions of these great men, which do infinite honor to their humanity, it is now, we believe, generally agreed that the modern battles with firearms, discharged at a distance in the midst of smoke and without passion, are far less sanguinary than the close, we may say, personal and angry combats of the ancients.

Aside from the evidences already mentioned of the early knowledge of gunpowder, there are still others. It appears to have been used in China at, if not before, the Christian era. It was also apparently known to the Arabs at an early period. In 1342 the Moors employed it in the siege of Algeziras. According to the common story the discovery of its propulsive power was due to the German monk, Baron Schwartz, between 1280 and 1320.

The proportion of the ingredients composing the mixture—saltpetre, sulphur and charcoal—is different in different countries.

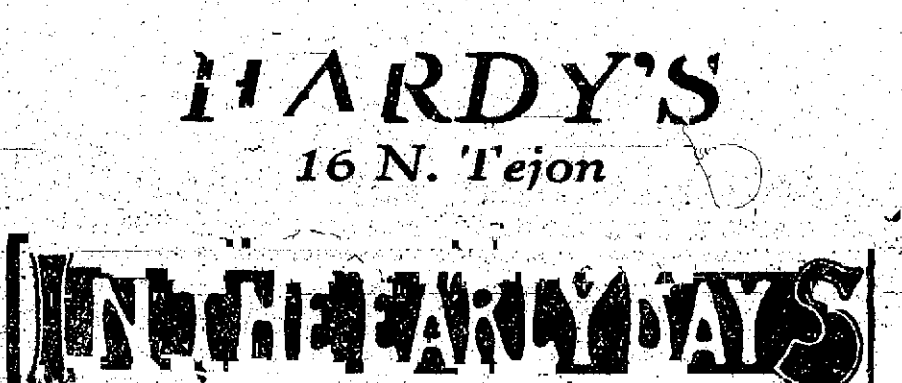

TOMORROW—STEAM AND STEAM ENGINES.

Costly Treatment.
"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." For sale by all dealers.

AUGUST 22, 1882.
The State Press association of Iowa, comprising editors and their families to the number of 160, were visiting at Manitou. They were going over the state on a special train and having a very fine time.

Twenty Years Ago Today
AUGUST 22, 1892.
A Republican club was organized at an enthusiastic meeting held in the court house. Among those taking prominent parts in the meeting were C. B. Seldombridge, S. H. Kinsley, Dr. J. R. Robinson and C. E. Noble.

Some magnificent specimens of mica from a claim near (Ripple Creek) were being exhibited in Colorado Springs.

THE HASKIN LETTER THE WEEKLY WASH III—LAUNDRY METHODS OF THE WORLD By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

At a recent gathering of laundry proprietors someone made the statement that the progress of a nation was demonstrated more clearly by its laundry methods than in any other way. The more progressive the nation, the more fully equipped are its laundry plants. Since America is the leading nation of the world, it naturally follows that its laundries should be the finest in the world and it is generally acknowledged that the United States does set a pace which other nations must follow. The best American laundries not only set an example for other nations to imitate, but also place the means of following within reach by supplying first-class laundry machinery. All of the best laundry machinery in the world is exported from the United States.

England stands next to the United States in the equipment of its laundries, many of which have all American machinery and are almost, if not quite, on a par with the best American establishments. The English laundrymen have paid special attention to the chemical department of laundry work and in this respect, perhaps, England is in the lead. Many of the best formulas used in American laundries regarding the effect of certain chemicals upon fabrics have been imported from England, as have also the methods now in vogue for washing woolens.

In Germany, the steam laundry methods have not as yet found popularity. They are used in public institutions, such as hospitals and barracks, but as a public convenience they are not in great demand. Many Germans are opposing the use of machines and the development of public laundries upon the ground that it takes away a valuable industry from women who need the income. To this end a special effort is being made to teach girls modern laundry methods as a part of their education. The continuation schools, which are so great a feature of Germany's educational system are now beginning to introduce some of the simpler American laundry machines and teach the girls how to use them.

Quarterly Washing in Germany.
The weekly wash day is not the institution in Germany that it is in England and America. The German mother prides herself upon having sufficient clothing and linen for her family to make it unnecessary for her to have the washing done every week and in many families it is only done three or four times a year. It thus becomes a mighty task, calling for several days' work and usually the employment of extra labor. The sanitary disadvantage of keeping so large an accumulation of soiled clothing in the home has not yet become apparent to the German public.

In France, the laundry methods for the bulk of the population are still primitive. The French hand laundresses, like the German, are exceedingly loath to see American machinery introduced, although it is being done in increasing quantities each year. The first American laundry equipment introduced in France was attached to the county buildings at Nanterre, where it was highly recommended by those who inspected it. According to the official report, the average amount of linen washed during the first year of its operation averaged in cost about 56 cents for every 250 pounds of laundry, which was almost 50 per cent of the cost of hand labor. In addition, the official estimated a further saving in the wear and tear of material handled equivalent to 12 1/2 per cent over the old method. While the French laundry methods were at one time considered the best in the world, it has been the sad for several years among fashionable people to send their clothing to London to be laundered. When the French learn to use American machinery as the London laundries do, this work will be done at home.

Tread Dirt Out With Feet.
In the more primitive countries the washing is largely done with the feet. In Japan, the washwoman does her work out-of-doors. She rubs the garments with Japanese soap and packs them into a tiny washbasin about six inches deep and about the size of an ordinary American dishpan. She covers them with water, lets them stand a few minutes, and then proceeds to tread the dirt out with her feet, sometimes making a sort of dance step to music, which is really graceful and attractive to the watching tourist. The Japanese rip their clothing apart to wash it, which explains why every genuine Japanese kimono is made with such long lasting-like stitches. After the clothes have been washed by this foot process and given the necessary rinsing with water, the Japanese laundress spreads them singly upon a board, where she stands up against the side of the house. The sun does the ironing for her and sometimes it produces a luster which those who have watched the process are at a loss to understand. The Chinese girls wash their clothes after practically the same method.

In Korea, the women wash their clothes by pounding them in water with a paddle. They prefer to use running water, but when this is not available they use large vessels sometimes hollowed out of a tree and sometimes made of course, heavy pottery. The men of Korea wear baggy pantaloons which come up to their necks after the fashion of an American clown and the women make them glistening white, the paddle motion imparting a sort of gloss to the material similar to that which the pounding process gives to linen. In China few men do any washing. It is only in foreign lands that "John" is willing to "wash" for the public. In Egypt most of the washing is done by men. The Egyptian washwoman stands upon the bank of the Nile and washes the clothes, while wet by slapping them with his hands, making a noise almost equal to pistol shots. The Hindu women wash in much the same way, except that they remove the dirt from the clothes by striking them while wet against the smooth stones of the stream and then rinsing them clean.

Public Wash Pavilions.
Guatemala has set an example to many more progressive cities in the way it provides laundry facilities for its people. At frequent intervals, even along the most populous streets, there are erected small tiled-roof pavilions resembling Chinese pagodas in appearance. They are situated in front of brick pillars. Running all around the pavilion, excepting for the entrance

OPTIONS ON ISABELLA WILL BE TAKEN UP; IT ADVANCES TO 25 CENTS

The unprecedented demand during the last 48 hours for stock of the Isabella Mines company and the sales yesterday of 133,000 shares, is causing no little speculation among mining interests as to the source of supply and for whom the stock is being purchased. It was also pointed out as a coincidence that the figure for which a block of 107,000 shares were purchased yesterday, 25 cents, is the same which J. R. Young, a local broker, offered for the controlling interest in the Isabella a month ago. He was not concerned in yesterday's buying. Young is the representative of an eastern syndicate, offered 25 cents a share for the stock in July, when it was selling on the exchange around 12 and 13 cents a share. At that time Young sent out circular letters to the stockholders, accompanied with blank selling orders, and it was stipulated that 5 cents of the purchase price would be paid October 15 of this year, and the remaining 20 cents on or before January 15, 1913.

Mr. Young said yesterday that there were no late developments in the matter of negotiations for the control of the Isabella, but admitted that the options he holds will be taken up by the people he represents. These options, he said, represented a considerable amount of stock in the company.

Delegates Are Named to Transmississippi Congress

The list of local delegates to the Transmississippi Commercial congress to be held in Salt Lake City, August 28-30, was given out yesterday by Mayor Avery. Those appointed are E. W. Giddings, F. M. Pitt, Jesse F. Waters, E. W. Kent, J. A. Hayes, Franklin E. Brooks, M. E. Stark, P. J. Ulrich, W. H. Cundey and N. L. French.

Because of the fact that the carnival begins on the same day as the congress, considerable trouble was experienced by the mayor in securing delegates, a great many business men being busy on the various carnival committees. This congress considers the commercial questions and the problems presented by national development, especially those concerning the states between the Mississippi river and the Pacific coast.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he should be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

GOVERNMENT ASKS FOR MAN KILLED BY A TRAIN

A letter was received yesterday by Mayor Avery from the war department inquiring about the death of W. T. McCarty, a ranchman, who was killed by a Rio Grande train near Fountain, August 10. McCarty, who was known as Richard R. Glick in the war department's records, was a retired army sergeant. Because of the fact that he was put on the train at Fountain and taken to Pueblo, no inquest was held in this county. He was dead when he reached Pueblo, but whether he died in this county or in Pueblo county is not known. He was buried in Fountain. This information will be forwarded to Adjutant General J. F. Kerr at Washington, who wishes to complete the record of McCarty.

BELLSTEDT FAINTS WHILE DIRECTING DENVER BAND

Herman Bellstedt, who directed the Midland band here last year, fainted in Denver Tuesday afternoon when his band was playing "My Old Kentucky Home." He was saved from a bad fall by his two sons, Herbert and Irwin, members of the band. Bellstedt, conducting this season at City park, Denver. The band was playing the old familiar piece when the audience saw the leader sway and clutch at his left side. The younger Bellstedts were at their father's side instantly, and caught him as he fell from his hand, and he pitched forward. He was assisted to a chair, and the band, which had continued playing at a sign from Herbert Bellstedt, finished the number. Bellstedt senior was taken home in a carriage and had practically recovered yesterday. He has a weak heart and is said to be strongly affected by some pieces. It is understood that at the close of the present season he will leave Denver, probably definitely.

D. C. Bybee, teaming contractor, living at 689 Keeling Court, Canon, Ill., is now well rid of a severe and annoying case of kidney trouble. His back ached and he was bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. "I took Foley Kidney Pills just as directed, and in a few days I felt much better. My life and strength seemed to come back. My backache left me, I slept well, and I got up free from headache and dizzy spells. I am now all over my trouble and recommend Foley Kidney Pills to everyone." The Robinson Drug Co.

AUTO OWNERS ARE URGED TO VISIT HEADQUARTERS

Car owners are requested to visit the headquarters, 8 Pike's Peak avenue, where they will find a great variety of samples of material for decorating. There are some new and simple designs that are inexpensive, but very effective. The committee in charge is using its best endeavors to make the parade a great success, but this cannot be done without the cooperation of the citizens.

The committee soliciting entries has been met with the statement that motorists and others were too busy to decorate. This is good news, but we are inclined to think that the carnival advertising must be to a certain extent, responsible. The committee in charge of the automobile parade is working strenuously, but the support of automobile owners is absolutely necessary. Send in your entry today.

COLORADO SPRINGS MAY BUY HARMES DITCH RIGHTS

Mayor Avery said yesterday that an attorney versed in the matter of water rights will be appointed to investigate for the city the titles to the Harmes ditch. Rights in the ditch are regarded as highly valuable, and if the titles are clear it is proposed to purchase them for the city. The price the city is willing to pay is not yet set.

The Harmes ditch, according to city officials, is in the right to three and one-half feet per second of the flow of water in Fountain creek. Under the Colorado Title & Trust company, trustee for J. A. Harmes, Irving Bonbright and W. A. Ott, claims title to 45 per cent of the flow of the ditch, the United States Reclamation and Reclaiming company, 35 per cent, and gardeners in the Fountain valley, the remaining 20 per cent.

A large number of the water rights in the district including El Paso county have been found to be defective, and while the validity of the titles in the Harmes ditch have not been tested in court, the city proposes to secure expert legal opinion negotiating the purchase. With Colorado Springs controlling the Harmes ditch rights, it could divert the water at any point desired on the Fountain watershed, in the opinion of city officials. The water is pure, fresh in the hills above Manitou and is suitable for domestic purposes. If the rights in question are acquired, the city proposes to divert a part of the water now going down the Fountain valley to reservoirs which will be constructed in the mountains for additional storage capacity.

All Is Ready for Window Trimming Contest Tuesday

Next Tuesday is the day set by the Chamber of Commerce committee for judging the competitors in the window trimming contest. At a meeting of the committee yesterday morning, arrangements for this unique feature of the carnival were completed. The windows will be judged by a committee that will award prizes on the basis of the effect of the decoration of the entire window, and not on the excellence of any particular feature.

It is the opinion of the committee that the contest not only will improve the appearance of the business section but that it will have a distinct educational value.

The entrants are divided by the committee into the following classes:

Class A—Jewellers, stationers and art goods.

Class B—Shoe dealers.

Class C—Clothing.

Class D—Dry goods stores.

General class—All others.

Prizes of $7 for first place and $5 for second will be awarded in each of the classes. In addition there will be a $5 prize in the general class for the most novel and appropriately decorated window.

Judges, who will be assigned to the various classes, later, were named as follows yesterday: J. C. Horn, H. A. Hamilton, E. L. Whitney, E. E. Wolff, J. P. Shearer, T. C. Kirkwood, R. H. Heffley, Ray Lowell, W. B. McCoy, C. A. Hibbard, S. J. Deal, E. E. Whitaker, D. J. Finkelstein and L. J. Felt.

To Introduce Measure to Get Rid of Weeds

City Attorney McKesson and Commissioner Lawton propose to introduce an ordinance at tomorrow's meeting of the city council, which, if passed, will compel property owners to cut weeds. Should they decline to do this, the work will be done by the city and the costs assessed against those for whom the work is done.

It was said yesterday that the proposed ordinance will provide notification to property owners that weeds must be cut, and if the notice is not heeded, the city will have the authority to act in its own behalf. In the event this is done the costs will be compiled, and if not paid at once will be filed with the county treasurer. Bills for cutting weeds, it is said, must be paid the same time as taxes, otherwise the property will be sold as though for taxes.

A statute passed at the last session of the state legislature gives cities the power to compel property owners to cut weeds on their property and also to keep clean abutting alleys.

Doctors Advised An Operation. How She Escaped Told By Herself.

Buckner, Mo.—"For more than a year I suffered agonies from female troubles and the doctors at last decided there was no help for me unless I went to the hospital for an operation. I was awfully against that operation, and as a last resort wrote to you for special advice and I told you just what I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, shooting pains in my left side, and at times I could not touch my foot to the floor without screaming. I was short of breath, had smothered spells, felt dull and draggy all the time. I could not do any work, and oh how I dreaded to have an operation.

"I received a letter full of kind advice, which I followed, and if I had only written her a year ago I would have been saved so much suffering, for today I am a well woman. I am now keeping house again and do every bit of my own work. Every one in this part of the country knows it was Lydia E. ## Hussane Confident He Will Win Handicap Bout Tonight pective of the outcome of to-wrestling bouts at Temple, the local lovers of the sport are as-of a contest of class and science way through.

Sandow, tried to issue a challenge at the ring side last night, following the match between Faust and Yousout, but they say, were denied the opportunity. Hussane, however, declares that he will take both Faust and Yous-

Mirise at Temple Theater Tonight.

rk, who is known all over the y as the probable successor of Goetz, will essay to throw Ryan and Frank Mirise each in 60 minutes. Hussane admits to has undertaken a stiff con-but maintains that hard propoare to his liking. He is confis to the outcome, and expects well within the time limit.

out on tomorrow afternoon, or just as tonight's bout is over, and throw each of them twice in an hour.
The money that he has posted will go as a side bet, he says, and as much more as the others care to put up.
Tonight's match begins promptly at 8:30, and it promises to be the fastest and cleverest contest of the mat put on here in many months.

Faust Lost in Yousout Match

By IRVIN BRUCE.

Harry Faust of Wichita lost his handicap match at the Zoo last night when he failed to throw Hassan Yous-out twice in one hour.
The bout was not up to the standard of the bouts that have been pulled off in the Springs during the year. The grapplers did not show any great degree of science, but resorted to rough and tumble methods almost entirely.
Faust was clearly out of condition and did not display any speed whatever. From the beginning of the match he was content to take the defensive until the last five minutes, when he made an effort to throw the Turk. The visiting man looked to be much overweight.

Before the men had been milling 10 minutes the Dutchman started his rough house stunts and threw Yousout into the grandstand. At this stage of the bout Jake Gelfer, who was chief second for the Turk, protested that his charge was not receiving a fair deal, but Referee Meyer decided that he was.

A little later in the bout the Turk started the same kind of tactics and Faust was thrown from the ring into the seats. Both men were working hard, but neither was showing anything except the rough and tumble methods which you can see every day.
After the men had been milling for 25 minutes Faust let the Turk obtain any hold that he knew, but the Turk lacked the proper amount of leverage to pin his man to the mat. Time after time the Turk would have dangerous holds on his man, and would hold them for several minutes, but could not pin Faust's shoulders to the mat.
Faust did not obtain a single hold on the Turk that caused the latter the least bit of worry. At the close of the match both men were on their feet trying for holds. It was not until the last five minutes of the bout that Faust took the offensive and tried to down the Turk.

The preliminary was much better than the main event, the contestants showing much more speed than either the Turk or Faust. Jimmy Mack beated Young Spooner of Colorado City in straight falls, winning the first in 17 minutes with a scissors and arm bar, and the second in 6 minutes with a cradle hold.

FAMOUS ATHLETE ILL

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Martin Sheridan, the famous athlete and giant policeman, is gravely ill with mastoiditis today. An operation has been decided upon. Sheridan was the hero of the Olympic games in 1906. The

CHICAGO, 4; NEW YORK, 0.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—For the third time in four games, Lew Riddle pitched Chicago to a victory over New York today. He shut out the Giants, 4 to 0, and enabled Chicago to creep up to within four and one-half games of New York in the race for the National league pennant.

Riddle was master of the situation from the start. He pitched superb ball, holding New York to seven widely scattered hits. He had brilliant support. The only time New York threatened to score was in the fifth.

With two out, Fletcher and Tesreau drove singles, Sandow and the first ball pitched, over Zimmerman's head, but Zimmerman leaped in the air, stuck up one hand and pulled down the drive that otherwise would have gone into the left field crowd for a two-base hit.
Chicago got to Tesreau for four hits in the sixth and scored three runs.
Tinker opened the inning with a single, and went to third on Zimmer-man's double. Leach sent a single to center, driving Tinker and Zimmerman. Saier grounded to Evers, who failed in an attempt to catch Leach at second on a fielder's choice. Evers beat out a bunt to Tesreau and Saier came home on a passed ball.

Another run was scored by Chicago in the eighth when Saier singled, went to second on Evers' out and home when Archer singled deep into left field.

The game was witnessed by a capacity crowd. The stands and bleachers were packed and the outfield was lined with thousands of men and boys unable to get seats. Fully 25,000 persons were within the enclosure.

making it three out of four from Cinfull put the visitors in the lead and caused the retirement of Pitcher Phil Humphries. Pitched good ball until the ninth, when four singles netted three runs. In the seventh Cincinnati tied the score when with two out, Kirke threw wild to first, three runs scoring

PACING RECORD IS LOWERED AT LAMAR

LAMAR, Aug. 21.—One of the biggest crowds that ever gathered on the Prowers county fair grounds today saw the 2:15 pacing record lowered by 12.5 seconds, and a good card generally.
The track was in perfect condition, and the races were all close and exciting. There was no great amount of jockeying before the races, and, therefore, no tiresome waits, which greatly added to the pleasure of the spectators. The track record of 2:15 was lowered by 12.5 seconds when Espere, belonging to A. L. Camp of Greeley, Colo., paced a track mile in 2:13.3.5.

In the 3/4-mile dash Russell Darrough of Granada was thrown from his mount and severely hurt. For an hour or so the physicians in charge were afraid that he was fatally injured, but last night the young man had revived considerably, and it is thought that he will recover. The cowboy relay race was, without doubt, the most exciting race of the day. The quick changes made by George Hardin, rider of the winning string, and also the changes made by Basset on his own string, were little short of marvelous for speed and dexterity. Results:
Trot, 2:30; purse, $400—Carey (Draw), first; Windsor-Bell (Foster), second;
Ikey M. (Sproule) and Larimer Lad
(Morgan) tied for third. Time, 2:19.4.
Pace, 2:17; purse, $400—Espere (Camp), first; George Forker (Jewett), second; Easter Corn (Sproule), third;
Sir Argyle (Cherry), fourth. Time,
2:13.4.5.

Three-eighths-mile dash, purse, $50—
Won by Skillett, Antaro Oregon, second, and B. Bird, third. Time, 36 seconds.
Five-eighths-mile dash, purse, $100—
Foyetel, first; Light Knight, second;
Nancy W., third. Time, 1:03.
Three-fourths-mile dash, purse, $100—
Beauffman, first; Knight, second; Coers, second; Uncle Henry, third. Time, 1:19.

Cowboy relay race, 2 1/2 miles; purse, $150—Won by the Gilman string; Bas-set and Hugs, second; A. C. Curtis string, third. Time, 4:50.1.

The Cubs are adept users of the sacrifice hit. They rarely bungle it and choose the time for applying it with keenest discrimination and better results than most teams.

McLoughlin and Bundy Carry Off the National Tennis Title

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21.—The National Lawn Tennis championship in doubles was transferred from the east to the west today for the first time when Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco and Thomas A. Bundy of Los Angeles, won the title from Raymond W. Little and Gustave P.
Touhvard of New York, last year's winners, in a four set match on the casino courts. The crowds of the match which was played before an eager crowd of more than 2,000, were 3-6, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.

The challengers were easily the masters of the situation, although Bundy was bothered somewhat in the first set by the fusillade of shots which Little and Touchard aimed at his side of the court in the belief that he might not have recovered fully from his slight illness of yesterday. But the little Californian seemed to grow stronger as the match went on and by the middle of the second set he was scoring almost as many points as Mc-Loughlin, while some of his not weak equaled that of his brilliant partner.
Little was the stolid player of the eastern pair, for Touchard had difficulty in keeping within the chalk marks

And many of his returns in the middle sets fell far outside.

Of the 16 matches played in the fourth round and one in the third, 12 were decided in straight sets. The four extra sets affairs were between R. N. Wilson and Craig, Middle of Philadelphia and P. Gardner, Jr., and N. W. Kille of Boston, G. M. J. Larn of New York and C. S. Cutting of Boston, and William Washington of New York, and H.
Johnson of Boston.

The Gardner-Kille tennis controversy was easily the star event in singles and after the third set it looked as if Kille, who is the Massachusetts champion, had found Gardner's measure for the first time in their numerous meetings. But Gardner played brilliant tennis in its fourth set separating the match and then played Kille off his feet with the speed and versatility of his game.

Later in the afternoon three matches in the interscholastic championship were decided, two in four set contests and a third by default. Summary:
National singles championship, all campus tournament, third round completed.

T. E. Bundy, Los Angeles, won from
W. L. Pate, New York, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Fourth round: C. R. Head, Pasadena, won from W. M. Hall, New York, 6-4, 7-5, 7-6.

M. E. McLoughlin, San Francisco, won from J. H. Montgomery, Trenton, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

R. D. Little, New York, won from
R. Stevens, New York, 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

Interscholastic championship, first round:
J. H. Webb, University of Illinois, won from E. H. Rogers, Southern California, by default.

BADEN TAKES FEATURE RACE IN GRAND CIRCUIT

SALEM, N. H., Aug. 21.—The feature event at the Rockingham Park Grand Circuit meeting today was the "Granite State" valued at $5,000 for 2:10 class trotters, which was won by Baden, his chief opponent being Cleeney, the Dallas, Texas, entry.

The championship free-for-all trot was a victory for Billy Burke, 1st Georgie tried unsuccessfully to land the honors with Avie. He was a trifle in advance of Billy Burke in the initial heat at three-quarters, when he made a running break. In the second heat Georgie trailed to the stretch but when he put the question to Avie he found Billy Burke had speed in reserve.

Lord Allen won the two-year-old trotting division of the $11,000 horse-breeders' futurity. Dillon Axworthy and Peter Johnson divided second and third money. Fastest heat 2:19.4.

The champion free-for-all trot, purse
$3,000, was won by Billy Burke. Avie second; Brice, Girdle third. Fastest heat 2:07.4.

The 2:10 pace, purse $1,000, was won by Susie M. McNeill Bell second; La Rustina third; Kavak fourth. Fastest time 2:11.5.

The Granite State 2:10 trot, purse
$5,000, was won by Baden, Cleeney second; Kenyon W. third; Dorset Medium fourth. Fastest time 2:09.3.5.

MACK AND KING WILL GO EIGHT ROUNDS TONIGHT

At a smoker to be given at the El Paso County Young Men's Republican club tonight, Jimmie Mack and Billy King, two local boxing experts, will go eight rounds and it is needless to state to those who have seen either of the men in the ring, that each round will be as fast as anyone desires to see.

Both men have appeared here several times and both are among the cleverest boxers in the Rocky Mountain region.

As a preliminary to the main event a three-round bout between a couple of pennyweights will be staged. Kid Woods and Young Eaden will wrestle to a finish; best two out of three falls, also as a preliminary.
